

CAMP INFORMATION

Do you have aspirations of playing at the next level? Do you want to know your strengths and weaknesses?

Members of the IWU Men's Basketball Program will be on hand to demonstrate drills and work with players. Over the years, IWU has produced six players who have gone on to sign professional contracts. IWU Alumni have played basketball in Argentina, Australia, Canada, Slovakia, Uruguay as well as joined the Harlem Globetrotters.

This one day camp will give you a great idea about the skills it takes to play at the college level. This camp is patterned after the NBA pre-draft combine where players are assessed to see where they need to improve if they are going to continue their playing career. The focus will be on teaching the skills that it will take to be successful at the next level along with educating players about the recruiting process.

WE BELIEVE VERY STRONGLY THAT THE IWU PROSPECT CAMP SHOULD BE AN EXCITING LEARNING EXPERIENCE. OUR TEAM OF COACHES AND PLAYERS WANT TO HELP YOU IMPROVE WHILE HAVING FUN!

Coach Greg Tonagel has a passion for developing potential by teaching and motivating players to become the absolute best they can be. Campers experience this first hand through the tireless work ethic, contagious energy, and special attention he gives to making his camps a great experience!

Tonagel, a former Indiana All-Star, played college basketball at Valparaiso University, where he was a four-year starter, two-year team captain, and a four-time NCAA Tournament participant. Tonagel is a proven winner who understands what it takes to be successful on and off the court.

Since becoming the Wildcats head coach in April of 2005, Coach Tonagel has guided the program to unprecedented success both on and off the court. In his 14 seasons, he has guided the Wildcats to a 391-104 (.790) record. The six-time Crossroads League Coach of the Year and three-time NABC National Coach of the Year has led the Wildcats to three NAIA National Championships, one Fab 4, six Elite Eight appearances, ten regular season league championships and four conference tournament titles.

"I am so excited for camps this summer. There is nothing better than helping young people improve on the court but even more, we love teaching young people to develop a passion and work ethic for the rest of their lives!"

JEFF CLARK ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Preparation and player development are two descriptors that describe Coach Jeff Clark. As a talented strategist, Clark has been instrumental in guiding the Wildcats to one of the nations highest winning percentages in his 13 years, 374-91 (.804). His ability to break down the game and teach it effectively has produced eleven All-Americans.

Under Clark's tutelage, six times a Wildcat has been named Crossroads League New-Comer of the Year. Even more impressive, six Wildcats have extended their careers as professional basketball players. For his efforts, Coach Clark has been named the nations top NAIA assistant coach four times.

"I get energized when I break the game down and teach players how to improve. I can't wait to work with all these young players who come through our doors for camp!"
